

Match the clue with the relevant phylum. Phyla include:

Echinodermata	Cnidaria	Porifera	Rhodophyta	Chordata
Arthropoda	Mollusca	Annelida	Magnoliophyta	Chlorophyta

I have: A soft body generally protected by a hard shell.

I am: _____

Write the common name of an organism found in this group: _____

I have: Spiny skin and tube feet.

I am: _____

Write the common name of an organism found in this group: _____

I have: A cup-shaped body with tentacles.

I am: _____

Write the common name of an organism found in this group: _____

I have: Green leaf-like structures, but I am not a plant.

I am: _____

Write the common name of an organism found in this group: _____

I have: No mouth, internal organs or nerves and I am considered to be the simplest form of multicellular animal.

I am: _____

Write the common name of an organism found in this group: _____

I have: Jointed legs and a hard exoskeleton.

I am: _____

Write the common name of an organism found in this group: _____

What Phyla? (continued)

I have: A soft cylindrical body divided into segments.

I am: _____

Write the common name of an organism found in this group: _____

I have: A nerve chord, notochord (supporting structure), gill slits and a tail, at some stage in my development.

I am: _____

Write the common name of an organism found in this group: _____

I have: Roots, leaves, flowers and seeds.

I am: _____

Write the common name of an organism found in this group: _____

I have: Red leaf-like structures and generally live in deep water.

I am: _____

Write the common name of an organism found in this group: _____

